STRIKE LEADER IS ARRESTED AS AN ACCESSORY TO MURDER

CHIEF AIDE ALSO IN PRISON BOTH TO BE HELD FOR TRIAL

OUTCOME OF THE KILLING OF A WOMAN AMONG THE STRIKE LEADERS DURING A RIOT MON-DAY NIGHT.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Jan. 31.—Joseph Ettor, who has been the recognized leader of the striking textile workers in this city, and his chief aide, Arturo Giovannitti, were arranged in police court this morning, charged with being accessories to the murder of Annie Lapazo, a woman strike leader. The woman was shot to death during the serious rioting in the streets here Monday night.

Both men pleaded not guilty and are being held without bail for a hearing February 9. Another strike leader, Angelo Rocco, has been placed under arrest on a charge of inciting to riot.

The strikers are less turbulent today. No body is permitted to see the strike leaders in the jail and talks will probably be more quiet until William Heywood arrives here from Chicago tomorrow to take charge of the strike.

HELEN STUART-RICHINGS TO GIVE LECTURE HERE.

Madam Helen Stuart-Richings, widely known as a writer, lecturer and dramatic artist, will lecture tomorrow at the New Daytona theater on "Spiritualism and Its Phrenomena," following with some experiments in psychic readings.

For years Madam Stuart-Richings has devoted much time to a study of the occult, traveling widely and lecturing in all the three cities throughout the United States and Canada. Her investigations have provided her with a fund of valuable information and some of her experiences would make a very interesting lecture.

The lecture will undoubtedly be of great interest, while the psychic demonstrations are intended to show that man possesses some remarkable powers quite aside from those spiritualism attributes to "spirits." be expected in the north and central portions of the state of Florida tonight.

The prediction is for fair weather, wave of chilly weather coming here at this time follows the wave of in-

WEALTHY PERSONS MURDERED BY THE BRIGANDS IN CHINA

EXTRACTS FROM A LETTER SENT FROM CHUCHOW, CHINA

TISDALE HOSPITAL THROWN OPEN AS A PLACE OF REFUGE FOR ALL CHINESE WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

A letter received recently by Judge J. M. Tisdale, of Covington, Ky., and this city, written by Dr.
 Elliott I. Osgood from Chuchow, China where Judge Tisdale has endowed a hospital, indicates a more liberal disposition on the part of the Chinese toward missionary work and workers than has prevailed in the past.

Dr. Osgood writes: "When it was certain that soldiers and armies would move through this section of the country, we went openly to the city council and discussed the matter, saying that if our presence here would increase their burden we would leave, but if, on the other hand, we could in any way serve them by remaining we wished to stay.
 They assured us of all protection the city could give, but said they did not know what force might be brought against the city from without."

"Later they asked us to organize a local Red Cross society. The idea seemed to sweep the city and a society of over 200 has been formed.
 They have furnished all the funds used and done the clerical work and many have volunteered as nurses, etc."

"When Nanking surrendered to the revolutionists, the imperial leader, Chang Hsin, retreated through here with 7,000 troops. The city gates were closed and barricaded.
 There seemed to be difficulty about the railroad taking Chang's troops away and the city authorities asked us in the name of the Red Cross to go out and see if we could not arrange with the railroad to hurry the troops past. They let us down over the wall with ropes, as they feared opening the gates. We succeeded beyond expectation in getting any deliverance."

"Twice we entered the ranks of Chang's army and talked and advised with the leaders.
 "The city was many times panic stricken and we opened the doors of our hospital for any women or children to come in to quiet their fears. We posted a daily bulletin board with authentic news to give the lie to wild rumors which were driving the poor people frantic.
 Crowds flocked about it and my guest-room had constant visitors of the better classes. Money, valuables and even women and children of the richer families were brought to our compounds for safe keeping and we now have valuables in charge for which we have not even given a receipt."

"Very grave dissensions are among rival leaders of the revolutionists in the city, and the city council appealed to us to go between the parties and bring peace if possible. A secret organization was robbing and looting even within the city. We helped to expose them and a meeting of all the opposing parties was held at the Tisdale hospital and peace was effected.
 "Instead of there being danger to us, the whole city has been looking to us for protection and we can scarcely go on the street for the many expressions of gratitude which meet us everywhere."

 having been made to suffer terrible tortures. All the killed persons are wealthy residents. Brigands are mercy to make them disgorge their

DELIGHTFUL CELEBRATION OF WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Intemann of Brooklyn, N. Y., who, with their children, are spending the winter with Mr. Intemann's mother, Mrs. E.
 P. Intemann, at her winter home on North Beach street, held a delightful celebration of their tenth or the wedding anniversary at that residence Tuesday evening. There were 42 of their friends and relatives in attendance, all of whom, with two exceptions, were Brooklynites. They were also all German, or of German extraction, with two exceptions, and several of the invited guests came to Daytona expressly to attend the celebration.

The rooms had been elaborately decorated and the table was set with evergreen leaves, banded with orange blossoms. The table decorations were also very beautiful and with the lighting made a very attractive effect. A table had to be especially constructed for the event and was made in the form of a letter I to represent the initial of the name, Intemann, and fairly filled the long dining room.

All the tableware was of tin, including cups, spoons and other articles, the sugar being served in a big tin pan with corresponding spoon, creating much merriment among the guests.
 Mrs. Intemann, the bride of the occasion, was charming in the part.
 She wore a sparkling wreath of forget-me-nots, made of tin by Mr. Intemann's mother, who also made a boutonniere of the same material for Mr. Intemann.
 Mr. and Mrs. Intemann received many beautiful presents, not all confined to tin, but so nearly as possible resembling that material, and even the children added their gifts to the number. The residence presented a very bright and joyous appearance and the evening was one of pleasure for all participating.

A FORTUNE IN ROYALTIES.
Charles Klein, the author of "The Lion and the Mouse," has received in royalties for writing this play, which took him one year, nearly one-half millions dollars. As there are 70,000 words in the play his genius as a playwright won him $7 a word for this contribution. The profits of Mr. Harris, the producer, have nearly reached the $1,000,000 mark.

THE LYMAN TWIN BOYS ARE EXPERT YACHTSMEN.
The Lyman Twin brothers, the popular comedians, who appear at the New Daytona theater again tonight are enthusiastic yachtsmen, being the sons of Capt. Chas. A. Lyman, master of one of the largest steel passenger and freight boats on the great lakes. This has brought them in close touch with navigation since childhood, and even when they were little fellows they were always the owners of some kind of skiff and have never been without a boat up to the present time. They are fond of all kinds of water craft and are both experts with the sheet and wheel.

They are members of the Spring Lake Yacht and Motor Boat clubs, Spring Lake, Mich., where they have summer homes and participate in all the races there every year. While in Biloxi, Miss., a few years ago, the oyster inspector invited the boys out for a sail in his 24 foot cut boat. After they got under headway one of the boys asked if the inspector objected to him taking the sheet. The inspector said no, of course not, but that he would stand by as the boat handled very quick, and with that he turned the wheel over to the Twin, who hauled the boat into the wind that her on the starboard tack and in a few moments hauled her over on the port tack with the quickness and accuracy of an old salt. The inspector sat down, filled his pipe, looked up at the comedian and said with a satisfied smile, "You've sailed one of these things before or you couldn't handle a boat like that."

If These Towns

with the best of fire-fighting equipment can burn why not Daytona?

NEW YORK, Jan. 10—The fire in the Equitable Life Assurance company's building, which started yesterday morning and gutted the big granite and marble structure, is still burning today and the city firemen are working hard to subdue the flames.

Between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000 worth of securities are locked in the vaults of the big building and the vaults in the ruins are being strongly guarded by a cordon of police.

It is now known that seven lives have been lost in the fire and others may be in the ruins.

The Equitable officers declared today that some of the policyholders will lose a cent because of the disaster. By hard work the firemen have been able to keep the blaze from spreading to other structures in the vicinity.

Murat's Daring in Battle.

I have read that my grandfather's three distinguishing characteristics were high chivalric courage, great skill as a general and almost unparalleled coolness in the hour of danger. His form was tall, his tread like that of a king, his face strikingly noble, while his piercing glance few men could bear. He had heavy black whiskers and long black locks, which contrasted singularly with his fiery blue eyes. He usually wore a three cornered hat with a magnificent white plume of ostrich feathers. This plume, with many other relics, is now in the possession of my eldest brother, Prince Murat. My grandfather's dazzling exterior made him a mark for the enemy's bullets. The wonder is that, being so conspicuous, he was never shot down and was rarely wounded. I have read that at the battle of Aboukir he charged with his cavalry straight through the Turkish ranks, driving column after column into the sea.—Princess Murat's Memoirs.

Irrigation in Chile.

Chile is producing great harvests of cotton and other valuable staples by extended irrigation. Already about 2,500,000 acres of her territory are being treated in this way and about as much more of her land is available for the same purpose.

Terriers Kept Busy.

Three terriers recently killed 250 rats in half an hour when a wheat stack was being threshed at Fitzhugh's, Stortford, England.

Passed the Bottle Too Quickly.

Will Low, the painter, told this story of the Latin quarter days of Robert Louis Stevenson. Low and Stevenson were great friends in their youth. Their friendship indeed continued up to the time of the writer's death.

"Louis," said the artist, "was no less diplomatic than brave. He could be fiery, and he could also be gracious and pacific. One night, I remember, we sat in a garden in Montmartre. The red wine had been flowing pretty freely, and one member of our party got heated and aggressive. Finally some one said a thing that this fighting-chap disliked. As soon as the words were spoken he grabbed up a bottle and hurled it at the other's head. It was a strong, true shot and would have hit the mark had not Stevenson sprung to his feet and caught the missile.

"But, tut, George," he said to the thrower—tut, tut! In this bottle is passed so quickly none of us will be able to stand out the evening."

Helen Stuart Richings at the New Daytona Theater tomorrow night.

Speed of the Teal.

Give a bluewing teal a forty mile breeze behind him, having the little rascal dropping down with it, and he comes on so fast as to be simply unhittable. Some writers have claimed a speed for him of 150 miles an hour, or 220 feet a second. The canvastack, redhead and bluebill have a way of driving before a gale, too, that will be found fast enough in all conscience. Much of the fascination of wing shooting comes from the fact that shots will always be afforded quite beyond skill of mortal man.—Charles Askins in Outing.

The Well Connected Onion.

The onion, strange as it may seem, comes of an aristocratic family, from the stock of which have sprung many notable scions and lovely offshoots. The humble onion is own cousin to the stately lily, whether the lovely Lenten lily, the lily of the valley or the fair floating water lily, all these being of the great liliaceous race. The onion has other notable connections. It is also cousin to the daffodil, or narcissus, and it is even allied to the gigantic dragon tree of Teneriffe, which bears little trace of the seemingly frail lily tribe, but is nevertheless a monstrous lily. Thus it is plain the onion is of illustrious origin, though to the ordinary observer there is nothing classical or romantic about it.—Exchange.
